The snowpark in the Mürren-Schilthorn ski area is now called Pända Snowpark

The renowned Skyline Snowpark in the Mürren-Schilthorn ski area will have a new name from this winter onwards: Pända Snowpark. In collaboration with Pända Freestyle Ltd., the snowboard and freeski offer will be strengthened both on the mountain and in the valley when they open the first freestyle hall in the region in spring 2025.

The Skyline Snowpark has existed in the Mürren-Schilthorn ski area for 10 years. During this time, the Schilthorn Cableway Ltd. has succeeded in establishing itself in both the national and international snowboarding and freeskiing scene. On the one hand by organising prestigious events such as the Swatch Nines, and on the other by offering a consistent and high-quality snowpark. From the 2024/2025 season, the snowpark will further strengthen the freestyle offer in the Bernese Oberland under the name Pända in close collaboration with the Pända Freestyle Ltd. Thanks to the Pända Snowpark and the Pända freestyle hall, sports enthusiasts will have a professional infrastructure at their disposal both on the mountain and in the valley. There is also the Pända Camps course programme, which was successfully launched last winter and will be further expanded in the future. "We are delighted to be able to offer an excellent snow park, a new freestyle hall and an extensive range of courses from next year, under the name Pända, with the Schilthorn Cableway Ltd." announces Jonas Hunziker, co-founder of Pända Freestyle Ltd.
